The exciting and prolonged controversy between the Presbytery of Monmouth and the congregation of the First Presbyterian church of Asbury Park, N. J., ended in a stormy meeting Tuesday night, in which the Presbytery of Monmouth was ignored and the congregation voted to hire their pastor, Rev. Howard T. Widdemer, for another year.

The members of the New Haven Carnival association were riding about town last evening in a car decorated in bunting and streamers advertising the baseball game at Savin Rock, at which Fitzsimmons, the opponent of "Gentleman Jim" in the coming contest, will umpire. The boys seemed to be having a good time and were prophesying a good attendance.

John Schuyler.

John Schuyler, who years ago was chief engineer of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, died Monday, the 19th, at his residence in Pelham, Westchester county, N. Y., in his sixty-sixth year. Mr. Schuyler was the head of the Schuyler family of New York city. He was born in the old Schuyler homestead at Schuylerville, Saratoga county, N. Y., on the site of which General Burgoyne surrendered.
Mr. Schuyler was the son of Philip Schuyler of the colonial army.

ATTRACTIONS AT THE ROCK

TWO BIG DAYS TO-DAY AND FRI-DAY.

A Big Excursion Over the Air Line To-day —The Big Convention of Colored Men—Connecticut Veterans to Meet—Trolley Parties—Fitzsimmons to Umpire the Ball Game To-morrow—Fireworks in the Evening.

To-day and to-morrow promise to be two of the busiest and most exciting days of the year at Savin Rock. There will be a large excursion over the Air Line division in the morning and one from Mt. Carmel of over 100 people.
The Summer club of Hartford, one of the largest and wealthiest colored leagues of that city, will also have their outing here, and will be met at the Union depot by a large delegation of their brethren of this city.

The Connecticut Veteran association will also have a reunion at the shore, and the friends of these defenders of the flag will probably assemble with them to aid in the enjoyment of the shore.
Several trolley parties have been arranged for the evening, starting from all points on the line. In addition the Governor's Foot Guard band will give one of their delightful concerts in the grove.

On Friday the Naugatuck division sends a large excursion to the Rock, and the greatest ball game of the year will be played between the Milford and Sheltons, at which there will be several interesting surprises, together with a large crowd.

In the evening a fireworks display will take place in the ball field, to which everyone is admitted free of charge.
The Carnival company announce that they have secured Bob Fitzsimmons to umpire the ball game at Savin Rock Friday, which will be between the Meriden and the Milford clubs. Fitzsimmons will also spar three rounds with Tom Forester, his sparring partner, the band will play and there will be a good time generally.

In making this announcement the managers of the Carnival company wished it stated that they desired no controversy with anybody, but acted in good faith. They thought they had arranged for Corbett's presence at the Savin Rock grounds, and from the telegrams in their possession were not certain but that they would have to entertain both Corbett and Fitzsimmons, which they stood ready to do.

They have no doubt that Corbett's manager thought he was arranging for the same parties when he wired here.

STATE CONVENTION OF COLORED PEOPLE.

The Afro-American convention will be held at Savin Rock to-day under the auspices of the State Summer league of Connecticut. A big crowd is expected, and representatives from all over the state will be present. There will be speeches and a shore dinner.

NAVAL MILITIA CAMP.

Our Marine Soldiers Getting a Taste of Real Life at Niantic.

Naval Brigade Camp, Niantic, Aug.
21.—All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy and so though the boys are given a good deal of work they invent enough play during their leisure to prevent anything like dullness creeping in.

The weather for the time the boys have been here has not been of the kind best suited for camping out nights.
It has been of the chilly October kind and blankets do not seem at all uncomfortable. The day is well taken up with hard work, but the boys are having a general good time notwithstanding.
They were instructed in guard mount, guard duty, followed at 1:30 by the First company's infantry drill. At 3:30 there was an artillery drill of the First company.

The officers thought last night that some of the men had left camp, so at 10:30 the men were mustered and the roll was called. It showed that every man was present.

In proportion to their numbers the Naval Militia seem to be a greater attraction than the National Guard. Any number of visitors have been on hand to watch the work and as most of it is so entirely different from that of last week that it has awakened great interest.

The extended order drill with the firing of the Lee repeating rifles "caught the crowd," so to speak, yesterday afternoon. The way the men worked the guns which they loaded with blank cartridges was of such a high order that it not only reflected credit upon the officers, but forbade ill to any mob.
Should one ever face the firing fire permissible with the arms the division is equipped with. The work with the artillery also entertained the on-lookers. It was an altogether new sight to them. The weather was very favorable for this live work, consequently the gun crews entered into it with zest.

At practice shooting Lieutenant Buckland did some remarkably good work with the revolver. The manner in which he discharges his various duties has made the lieutenant quite a favorite with all. He displays the same quiet ability which is evident in every thing he undertakes. His skill in the use of the revolver is pleasing to his command and to equal or excel his score is one of the general ambitions of the hour. To-morrow or Friday all will be given an opportunity.

The men are disappointed about only one thing so far about the encampment, and that is that they will not be permitted to have any target practice at the state range. It was expected that considerable time would be put in at the butts and many of the men calculated on qualifying as marksmen.
The powers that be of the National Guard have said that the range cannot be used and that settles it.

The only mishap that has happened to any of the men as yet befell Bugler Hill yesterday. He stepped on a piece of broken glass and nearly cut the end of one of his great toes off. The wound was a bad one. Dr. Hawkes, who arrived here from New Haven to-day, dressed the wound, which will not incapacitate Bugler Hill, although he limps while walking.

Dr. Hawkes was warmly greeted on his arrival and will be well honored and feted by the members of the division, with whom he is very popular.

CORBETT AND THE EDGEWOODS.

Manager P. R. Greist of the Edgewood Athletic association has the following, which sets a controversy at rest:

Woonsocket, R. I., Aug. 20, 1895.

Mr. P. R. Greist, Manager: My Dear Sir—The rumor that I have arranged for James J. Corbett to appear with Carnival company of New Haven is false. I have to-day arranged with you for him to play first base on the Edgewood team Friday afternoon, August 23, and that, together with his appearance at the Hyperion theater in the evening with "In a Big City," will be his last public appearance before his coming battle with Robert Fitzsimmons.
Yours truly,

WILLIAM A. BRADY,
Manager James J. Corbett.
Mr. Greist obtained the above letter in Woonsocket, where Corbett appeared Tuesday night and where Mr. Greist had an interview with Corbett and his manager, W. A. Brady.
